

"The federal funding dedicated for military construction brings jobs to Oregonians and ensures the Oregon National Guard continues to be a national and strategic asset to the overall defense of the United States," said Lt. Col. Stephen Bomar, Director of Public Affairs for the Oregon Military Department.